OVERVIEW ---

The Club Managers Association of America (CMAA) is a national, professional Association for managers of membership clubs. With close to 6,500 members, manager members run more than 2,500 country, golf, city, athletic, faculty, yacht, town and military clubs throughout the United States.

STUDENT MEMBERSHIP AND DEVELOPMENT ---

Undergraduate and/or graduate hospitality management majors enrolled in four-year or two-year accredited colleges or universities are eligible to apply for a CMAA student membership. CMAA recognizes its responsibility to assist students in gaining a better understanding of the club management profession and in selecting a career in this sector of the hospitality industry. There are currently 45 CMAA student chapters and colonies and more than 1,200 student members.

The New Jersey Club Managers Association, a chapter of the Club Managers Association of America, has developed a program entitled NJ Club Internship Program. The Clubs and Club Managers within New Jersey wanted to create a vehicle to attract and retain hospitality management students who were seriously interested in both employment at a private Club and/or interested in a career in the Club Management profession.

WHAT IS THE NJ CLUB INTERNSHIP PROGRAM? ---

The NJ Club Internship Program is a program developed by the New Jersey Club Managers Association to link students who attend two-year or four-year College or University Hotel and Restaurant Management Programs with New Jersey Clubs and Club Managers for purposes of potential internship and employment opportunities.

WHAT DOES THE NJ CLUB INTERNSHIP PROGRAM OFFER? ---

There are several opportunities and benefits that accrue through the NJ Club Internship Program. These include:

- Opportunities to meet Club Managers and discuss possible employment within the individual Club or the Club Management Industry.
- Intern Program opportunities within individual Clubs.
- Scholarships.

HOW DO WE GET TO MEET CLUB MANAGERS?

There are several ways to meet Club Managers. These include the following:

- Involvement in your University's Student Chapter of Club Managers Association of America.
 - If you are a Community College student you are invited to join Fairliegh Dickenson University student chapter events. Please contact Dr. Kirsten Tripodi at kirsten@fdu.edu.
- Club Managers are frequent guest speakers and lecturers at Hospitality Management schools.
- Career Days at Universities with Hospitality Management Programs.
- Through a link at the NJ Club Internship Program; The appendix of this brochure lists Clubs in the New Jersey Chapter who currently participate in this program and would like to hear from you. The Managers of these Clubs realize that summer and full- time employment of students is most realistic if the students live in close proximity to the Club. Some Clubs have housing facilities available.
- Employment at a Club or participation in a Club Intern Program.
- Complete a NJ Club Internship Program application and send it to a Club where you would like to work.

HOW DOES THE INTERN PROGRAM WORK?

Several Clubs in New Jersey offer Intern Programs. Each is structured by the individual Manager to provide students with an opportunity to get exposed to multiple facets of Club Management. Internships come in all shapes and forms in the club management profession. To give some parameters and guidance to club managers and students alike, please consider the following types of internships.

Level 1: Position of Experience Based Internship. This is an internship where a student is assigned to a basic club job or staff position but is also oriented to a club's culture, tradition and its operations. Usually a short orientation starts the experience and then the student intern is trained in the position and occupies it for a set time period. Good examples of position internships might include: receptionist, wait staff, an activity staffer in a summer children's or youth program or beverage cart attendant.

Level 2: Rotational Internship. This is an internship where a student rotates through the various departments in the club, which includes one week in each departmental area, such as: clubhouse dining, culinary operations, golf shop operations, golf and tournament management, pool operations, club accounting and financial reporting, grounds and turf management, membership marketing and services, clubhouse event planning and other areas of club operations specific to your club. Student interns typically rotate through these club departments and then settle into a specific area for a more in-depth orientation and provide service to the club during the second portion of the internship. These are highly rewarding internships for both the club and the student. This type of internship position is typically held during the second or third summer of a four-year program. Academic credit may be earned for this level of internship.

Level 3: Leadership Internship. This is an internship where a student operates a revenue center for the club and is responsible for staffing and providing all operational guidance or leadership in managing this area. This might include the operation of a poolside cafe or operating the cabaña venues at a beach club or running the snack bar on the golf course. This internship is typically considered a third level and is performed during the third or final summer of a college student's four-year program. Candidates seeking this internship are highly experienced students who are ready and able to take on a leadership role and are able to assume full responsibility of an operational area. Academic credit may be earned for this level of internship.
